Message From the President

Your Sacramento Post of the Society of American Military Engineers ended calendar year 2006 on solid footing. As you will see as you read this issue of the Post's newsletter, our financial situation is strong and ever improving. As a non-profit entity, this is important as it translates into more engineering and science scholarships, and more opportunities for the Post to further the public-private engineering partnership, and to serve in general. Our membership posture also strengthened last year, and I want to continue to invite every member to "get a member." Sacramento is designated as a "large Post", and we are simply able to do more the larger we grow. As we move into 2007, let me again encourage you to attend at least one Post event per calendar quarter, and help us take the Post to the next level!

Colonel Ron Light

Post President

Support of Families of Deployed Troops

Sacramento Post is committed to support our deployed troops and their families. We appreciate the sacrifices that they and their families endure while they are away in Iraq and Afghanistan fighting the Global War on Terror.

LCpl Jeff Landay joined the Marines just out of high school at the age of 17. He turned 18 in boot camp. He was deployed to Iraq on 6 January 2006. On 21 May 2006, he and his platoon left Camp Fallujah on a routine patrol. Along the way, they encountered and initially were successful in avoiding several improvised explosive devices (IEDs). Unfortunately, one IED was eventually triggered and their humvee blew up and veered off the road. This incident resulted in one casualty, Cpl Cheeks Ramirez, the gunner. Several others were injured including LCpl Landay who sustained massive head injury. After spending several months in Bethesda Naval Hospital and Palo Alto VA Hospital, he is now back with his family and continues to slowly recover from his injuries. However, in the process of attending to their injured son, the Landay family also endured loss of jobs and other financial difficulties.

On 9 December 2006, LCpl Landay received his Purple Heart in a welcome home ceremony organized by a local radio station and held in the Aqua Club in Citrus Heights. During this event, the Sacramento Post presented LCpl Landay and his family with a $2000 check and an appreciation letter signed by our Post President, COL Ron Light. We hope that our small gift in some way eases the financial burden on the Landay family and we wish LCpl Jeff Landay (seen on the left in the picture below) a speedy recovery from his war injuries.

Welcoming

Sustaining Member Firms can elect to become a sponsor for the SAME General Meetings every month. In exchange for donating two or three raffle prizes, the Sponsor is allowed five minutes to speak about their firm at the beginning of the meeting. Money collected from tickets sales supplement the Post's scholarship fund. If you would like to become a meeting sponsor, please contact Pat Persi at Jones & Stokes, (916) 737-3000, ext. 3120, or ppersi@jsanet.com.

Membership

Vida Wright

If you are a sustaining member firm, please make sure that you designate five member representatives for your company including a young member who must be under the age of 35. Please contact Vida Wright, at (916) 924-9378 or vida.wright@erm.com with any membership related questions.

Readiness

Cheryl Bly Chester

The Readiness Plan can be accessed at www.samesacramento.org. Please contact Cheryl with questions at

Sacramento Post Scholarship Deadline Extended

SAME Sacramento Post Members,

As you know, the Sacramento Post awards scholarships annually to high school and college students who are studying engineering or related technical disciplines. The Sacramento Post is pleased to announce accepting applications for our 2007 SAME scholarship program until March 1, 2007.

Further information on the scholarship program, including a list of past winners, can be found on our website: <http://www.samesacramento.org/scholarshipinfo/index.html>

If you have any questions regarding the scholarship program, please contact scholarship chair Susan Goss at sgoss@dtsc.ca.gov; phone (916) 255-6403.

Treasurer's Report

I am happy to report the Sacramento Post met its financial goals for the year and remains financially healthy, helping us achieve the Post's missions such as awarding scholarships for deserving students, doing our part for community service, and providing technical information and training for our membership. We started the year with $84,944 and at the time of this writing your Post has a total of $96,099 in all accounts. Our spending plan is on track and the increase is due to a sustaining members forum, golfing outing, and monthly meetings throughout the year that have earned more than budgeted. Thanks to everyone for the generous support. We also earn money from investments and these are doing very well in our education and mentoring account at Morgan Stanley. Some accomplishments from the Treasurer for the year include preparation of a FY2006 income and spending plan, registration of the Post with the state as a charitable trust, preparation and submission of state and federal tax forms, reporting of our financial condition to National, consolidation of our operating accounts with the Golden 1 Credit Union, and activation of on-line banking.

The Post is in need of a new Treasurer for 2007/2008. If you are interested in service to SAME, please consider this opportunity.

David O. Cook, PE

Treasurer

Sacramento Post Announces New Website Initiative

In order to better serve our members, the Board of Directors had decided to do a complete overhaul of the Sacramento Post website.

The new website will have many improvements including the following:

- Highly visible event history, will summaries/pictures of recent SAME Sacramento Events
- Automated registration/confirmation for meetings and events
- Highly visible job board
- Volunteer opportunity listings
- Easy to find contact information for board members
- Forum board for SAME Sacramento Members
- Sustaining Member section with ability to put company/organization logos

The Board of Directors would like to thank Sacramento Post member, Kathryn Graham for stepping up and spearheading this initiative. The Sacramento Post is seeking volunteers to design, update, and maintain the new website. Previous experience is not necessary and training is available. Any members interested in web design are encouraged to contact Kathryn at Kathryn.Graham@hdrinc.com.

What You Missed.

The Programs Committee has done a great job of putting together an exciting and informative series of events for 2007. If you didn't attend a event in the last quarter, here is a little taste of what you missed.

October 26, 2006 - Young Members Forum

The SAME Sacramento Post held its first annual Young Members Forum at the University of California (UC), Davis Campus on 26 October 2006. Over 100 people attended this unique event, including 40 Air Force and Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps (ROTC) Cadets from Sacramento State University and UC Davis. Sustaining members sponsored the attendance for each cadet, enabling them to participate in this SAME event free of charge. Additionally, public sector employees were encouraged to attend under a discounted rate structure to widen the network of participants. Distinguished speakers included General McMahon, US Army Corps of Engineers (USACE) South Pacific Commander; COL Light, USACE Sacramento District Commander; LTC Connelly, ROTC Commander, and Mr. Thomas Sobolewski, USACE Sacramento District GIS & Mapping Section Chief. During this event, the Sacramento Post recognized several of its Young Member Leaders who contribute significantly to the Post's leadership. This forum also served as a kick-off meeting for the UC Davis Student Chapter, where Cadets and students met with the local business community and were encouraged to become active in their SAME Chapter and future leaders of SAME.

November 7 – 9, 2006 - SAME Southwest and Rocky Mountain Regional conference

Many members of the Sacramento Post attended the SAME Southwest and Rocky Mountain Regional conference held at the Marines Memorial Club in downtown San Francisco. This was a very well attended event at a first-class venue. The Marine Memorial Club was established in 1946 as a Living Memorial to the Marines who lost their lives in the Pacific during World War II. The non-profit Marines' Memorial Association offers Club Membership to former and retired members of all branches of the U.S. Armed Forces. The building's history dates back to 1926 and the décor reflects the elegance of old San Francisco.

The three-day conference kicked off with a golfing event at the historic Presidio of San Francisco, followed by an evening mixer. Lieutenant General Strock, P.E., SAME President and Commander and Chief of Engineers, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, provided opening remarks for the first full day of the conference. Distinguished speakers from the Navy, Army Corps of Engineers, Air Force, Coast Guard, California Department of Water Resources, and the engineering consulting community filled out each day's agenda on topics relating to the conference's theme: "Sound Infrastructure: The Key to Emergency Preparedness." One highlight of the conference was the promotion ceremony for Brigadier General John McMahon, Commander of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers South Pacific Division. Throughout the conference exhibitors displayed full-size booths in a large showroom where conference attendees networked and enjoyed give-aways from exhibitors. Perhaps the high point of the conference was the induction ceremony for twenty-two SAME Fellows, including our own Sacramento Post president, COL Ron Light, and our 2nd Vice-President Michael O'Hagan, P.E. The SAME Academy of Fellows recognizes SAME members who have distinguished themselves in dedicated and outstanding service to the nation, the engineering profession, and SAME.

December 7, 2006 - Holiday Mixer

The Sacramento Post teamed up with the Sacramento Chapters of the Professional Environmental Marketing Association, (PEMA) and the Society of Marketing Professional Services (SMPS) for a joint holiday mixer at the Discovery Museum. Sacramento Post members celebrated the holiday season with clients and colleagues and participated in one of the best charity raffles in Sacramento. Proceeds from the event were donated to the Children's Receiving Home of Sacramento.

Submitting Articles to Professional Publications can Earn Your Company Recognition through the SAME Sacramento Post

Each year, the Posts of the Society of American Military Engineers (SAME) compete for Streamer Awards in recognition of outstanding performance and achievement. In 2005, our Sacramento Post was awarded 100% of the possible Streamer Awards. We will be submitting our Streamer Award application for 2006 this month, and expect another 100% award! We want to continue this strong performance and need your help.

As members of the SAME Sacramento Post we need your help to meet the requirements for the Education and Training Streamer and continue to strive for the highest level of recognition. You can help by submitting articles to the Military Engineer or other professional publications to satisfy one of the required criteria for this Streamer Award. Not only will you be supporting your local SAME post, but you will also increase your firm's brand awareness by directly marketing your company's services to the larger community of Military Engineers. Your article will be read by top decision makers who support our work. Submitting an article allows your company to pursue a targeted marketing strategy that also improves public relations with long term clients.

If you have already submitted an article to The Military Engineer or other professional publication, please inform Linda Miskewycz at (916) 286-0357, lmiskew@ch2m.com, so your firm can be recognized by the SAME Sacramento Post.

More information about submitting to The Military Engineer is available at <http://www.same.org>, and publication deadlines and information for upcoming 2007 editions are included below.

What is new in membership?

The Sacramento Post sustaining and individual memberships steadily grew in 2006. With 66 sustaining member firms and 138 individual members, our Post experienced another all time high in membership numbers. The membership growth along with many other Post's accomplishments has positioned us for receiving the distinguished Post status in 2006.

SAME HQ is transferring membership information from our current membership database system to a new association management system (AMS), ClearVantage. The AMS is a modern, fully-integrated interactive database system which will provide added value for both the Posts and SAME's membership.

During this transition period, no new Individual Members applications, renewals, or member information changes can be made online at the present time. These functions are planned to be active again for Individual Members in early 2007. The online function is operational for the sustaining membership.

Please note that all memberships affected by the transition to the new AMS database will be extended until the new system is fully online and renewal notices have been sent.

Thank you for your understanding during this transition period. Please contact Vida Wright, Sacramento Post 1st Vice President & Membership Chair at 916-924-9378 or via e-mail at vida.wright@erm.com if you have any question or wish to have any additional information.
